TO-DAY IN CONGRESS.

National Associated Press to the Star. WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Mr. Price, of Iowa, from the Committee on Banking and Currency, submitted a report in relation to the failure of the German National Bank of Chicago. The committee find that the failure was due to the negligence of the Directors and failure to fulfill their duty, and they recommend that the National Bank Act be amended so to hold the Directors of all banks to a more strict personal accountability, and to require the stockholders, who elect the Directors, to make good any loss resulting from the negligence of the Directors. The report was ordered printed.

Mr. Warner, of Ohio, from Committee on Coinage, reported a bill in relation to the value of foreign coins. Ordered printed and recommitted. The House then resumed consideration of the bill for removal of causes from the State Courts, and Mr. New, of Indiana, addressed the House in favor of the bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Mr. Randolph moved that the Senate take up the bill for relief for Fitz John Porter. Mr. Logan objected. He did not wish the bill taken up until every Senator could have ample time to discuss it. The bill was then made the special order for Monday.

Bloody Murder. National Associated Press to the Star. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 11.—Early this morning Jennie Moore, a colored woman, was murdered by her paramour, Isaac Tyson. The couple had been living together for some time past, apparently in harmony, occupying one room in the dwelling at 731 Alaska street. During the night they were heard to quarrel, and about 8 o'clock this morning a colored man named Johnson opened the door when a ghastly sight met his gaze. Stratched on the floor was the woman lying dead, her face and head frightfully cut and covered with blood. Tyson was arrested.

No information is received to-day as yet concerning the missing man.

THE SOCIAL EVENT

Which Last Night Dazzled Washington Society, and Other News from the National Capital.

CINCINNATI PERSONAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 11.—William B. Maddux, of Cincinnati, the well-known distiller, is here.

ONLY SENSATIONAL. A number of sensational dispatches have been sent from here within the past few days regarding the alleged difficulty between Wm. M. Everts and R. B. Hayes over the subject of the construction of an inter-oceanic canal. It has been said that Mr. Hayes was in hot haste to send a message to Congress informing the Representatives and Senators that in his opinion the Monroe doctrine should be reiterated emphatically and immediately, as a warning to foreign powers presumed to be interested in building an inter-oceanic canal on the Isthmus. It was also reported that Everts opposed the transmission of any such message, and that the dispute was of such a character that it might force Mr. Everts to resign. The story originated with lobbyists for the various canal schemes, who hope to secure the Congressional sanction of their respective private enterprises. Certain newspaper writers are trying to map out a foreign policy for the Government. In the attempt to create sensations the truth is almost constantly lost sight of, Everts and Hayes have had no falling out. An allusion to the necessity of Congressional recognition of the principles enunciated by the Monroe doctrine will probably be made in the answer which Hayes will probably soon make to the House in reply to a resolution passed to-day calling upon him for department information about the Inter-oceanic Canal subject.

GEN. BEAUREGARD'S VIEW. Gen. Beauregard, of Louisiana, has been interviewed on the Inter-oceanic Canal scheme. He says that from the examination he has thus far made of the different routes and plans, he believes the floating-lock railway system, proposed by Capt. Eads, to be the most practicable. Gen. Beauregard is regarded by the people of the South as a great military engineer, and his endorsement of the Eads plan is considered very valuable to Capt. Eads.

SHERMAN ON THE REFUNDING BILL. Secretary Sherman spoke before the Ways and Means Committee this morning for an hour and a half upon the Refunding Bill. A vote will be taken in the Committee to-morrow.

THE FITZ JOHN PORTER CASE. The Fitz John Porter case, which is likely to cause an almost everlasting discussion, will be taken up by the Senate Monday.

THE WHITE HOUSE RECEPTION. National Associated Press to the Star. WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The reception last night by President and Mrs. Hayes to the diplomatic corps was probably the most elaborate entertainment which has been given during this administration. Members of foreign legations arrived early, dressed in their brilliant court dress, and were admitted by the private entrance. The other guests entered as usual through the main door. The decorations were the work of a well known artist decorator, and the rooms were perfect pictures of beauty. In the east room, where the President received, were tropical plants in profusion, their dark green leaves contrasting with the effect against the brilliant surrounding of the green, red and blue room.

The handsomely decorated supper-room was also a triumph of cuisine and floral art. The President and Mrs. Hayes received, assisted by Mrs. Everts and other ladies of the Cabinet, together with Mrs. Jones and Miss Lizette Jones, of Cincinnati; Miss Cook and Miss Nellie Waddle, of Chillicothe, Ohio; and Miss Nellie Fremont, of Fremont, Ohio, who are at present guests of Mrs. Hayes.

Mrs. Hayes was dressed in magnificent white brocade silk, heavily trimmed with lace. She carried a large bouquet. Mrs. Everts wore black silk, as usual. After the Diplomatic Corps had been introduced, Lady Thornton took a position beside Mrs. Hayes, and assisted her in receiving the Senators, Representatives, Army and Navy officers and Government officials.

The observed of all observers was Mrs. John Jacob Astor, of New York, who wore all her diamonds and seemed a perfect blaze of light. She wore in addition to her other costly ornaments a diamond necklace valued at $50,000. She stood a little back of Mrs. Hayes and was the center of attraction during the evening. The attendance was larger than at any previous state occasion, yet the arrangements were such that there was no crowding. The brilliant assemblage commenced to disperse about 11 o'clock.

BOYNTON AND SHERMAN. The following correspondence in relation to a letter of General Sherman furnished yesterday to Agent of New York Associated Press for publication explains itself. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10. "To Hon. Alexander Ramsey, Secretary of War: "Sir—On the 25th of last month I caused to be delivered to your messenger at the War Department a letter to yourself, inclosing charge with specification against W. T. Sherman for 'conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman.' "The statement having been furnished to the Associated Press, though not with authority of your office, that I have taken no steps to invite proceedings before a military tribunal, will you please inform me whether the papers referred to were received at your office on date named? "Very respectfully, your obedient servant, H. V. Boynton."

WAR DEPARTMENT. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10. Mr. H. V. Boynton. THE DAYTON, O., REVENUE TROUBLE. A reward was offered by the Collector for Brown's arrest. Commissioner Rauton has offered an additional reward of $500 on the part of the United States for his arrest. He also instructed the Revenue Agent to remain until the deficiency was made good.
